

Jiao Ying Chinese Culture & Art School Receives 11 awards from the 63rd Annual Oregon Humane Society's Be Kind to Animals Poster & Story Contest

The 63rd Annual A'Cat'Emy Awards was held on April 22, 2012 at the Oregon Humane Society Animal Medical Learning Center. A wonderful event was held amidst the excitement of children toward using art to raise the awareness of animal protection.

There were more than 3000 entries for the contest this year and a first place, second place, third place, and two honorable mention for each grade from 1-12. Within this highly competitive situation, Jiao Ying Chinese Culture & Art School had eleven students receive awards. Students grabbed two 1st place awards two 2nd place awards, two 3rd place awards, and 5 honorable mentions. The first place winner for 1st grade was received by Amy Kang and the first place winner for 9th grade was received by Melissa Liu, the second place winner for 4th grade was Matthew Li and the second place winner for 10th grade was Karina Wai, the third place award for 6th grade winner was Selina Teng and the third place winner for 2nd grade was received by Rida Kauser. The honorable mention winners for 1st grade was Luke Li and Aaron Gao, Alyssa Shi for 5th grade, Breanna Guo for 4th grade, and Vivian Luo for 9th grade. This plausible outcome for Jiao Ying Chinese Culture & Art School contestants is not only an honor for the school but has also encouraged the children to advocate animal protection.

The students were able to learn more about current situations in Oregon regarding animals from the vivid presentations during the event. They also gained insights in poster design and art from other student's work as well as submerged in the touching and humorous stories of the winning stories.
